

Alabama Baseball Coaches Association
2nd Annual “Professional Scout School”

Objective: To allow High School and College Coaches to understand how a Professional Scout evaluates amateur players. This will in-turn allow these coaches to better evaluate their players, thereby giving them a truer gauge when recommending them to college coaches and professional scouts. This will also help clear-up some misconceptions about scouting and evaluating players for amateur coaches. Professional Development forms will be given to attendees.

Where: The ALABCA All-Star Weekend at Troy University, held in Troy, Alabama.

When: June 24 – 26, 2010. Check-in dorm at 1:30 p.m. Thursday June 24, School begins at 3:00 p.m. Scout School ends on Saturday, June 26 at 5:00 p.m. We'll contact you after receiving your application form and fee.

Cost: $100 for 2010 ALABCA members, $135 for non-members. All money is due with application. This includes one meal Thursday evening, three meals on Friday and Saturday in the Troy University dining hall and your stay in the dorm. High School and College Coaches are welcome to attend.

What to bring: Twin bed sheets, shaving kit, shower towels, etc. Stopwatch, notepad and sunscreen will also be needed. Dress comfortable for scout school. All-Star Weekend is always hot! You'll stay in dorm with community college coaches and high school players. We'll try to separate you from them in another area of dorm.

Daily Events: You'll be in the classroom talking scouting and taking notes, and also around the field evaluating players and putting to use what you've learned in the classroom.

Send this form in completely filled out with your $100 (or $135) check made out to ALABCA (no need to detach here)
